Recipe for Success: Basic Ingredients for Undergraduate Research

Wednesday, November 16, 2011

4:30 p.m.

100A Hale Center (MLK Jr. Lounge)

153 W. 12th Ave., Columbus, Ohio 43201

Please join a panel of Mershon Center affiliated faculty and graduate students for an interdisciplinary discussion on the basic ingredients of a good undergraduate research project.

Panel members will cite examples of good undergraduate research projects and address such questions as:

- How do you develop good research questions?
- What types of methodologies should you use in your research?
- What foundation do you need to have before undertaking a research project? What theories and facts do you need to know? What classes do you need to take?
- How can undergraduates work with the Institutional Review Board?
- How can undergraduates make connections with faculty members?

Panelists include:

- Irfan Nooruddin, Associate Professor of Political Science
- Kendra McSweeney, Associate Professor of Geography
- John Carlarne, Peace Studies Coordinator

This has been one of the most successful undergraduate events sponsored by the Mershon Center for the past five years, with more than 70 percent of respondents rating it as extremely valuable.

Co-sponsored with the Undergraduate Research Office.
